

Oyster farming

The job of oyster farmer consists in raising fertilized oysters in oyster beds

Profile : you must be muscular, motivated and enduring

The oyster farming is very physical, the hours are not fixed according to tide, the work is done outside, very hard, we do not often see the family

To be an oyster farmer, you need to have a professional marine culture degree

To be able to have a company, a VCE conchyliculture to be employed and if not you can do a HND to have a higher level of business

The salary of an oyster farmer is equivalent to the minimum wage. A multi-skilled employee can earn €2,000 gross per month. An oyster farmer can earn up to €4,000